FOOD FOR FINES

Monday, April 11, 2016 thru Saturday, April 16, 2016

Wipe out $1 in overdue fines for every unopened, non-perishable food item you donate during National Library Week (April 10 -16, 2016)! All food collected will be donated to Community Cooperative. Up to $10 per person. Offer good for overdue fines only. No change will be given for food donations in excess of fines owed, although excess donations are welcome.

BOOKS NEEDED

THANK YOU so much for your generous donations of Used Books.

Please keep them coming!! We still need them to restock the Nook.

MESSAGE FROM THE BRANCH MANAGER

Just a quick message to let you all know how much we appreciate your support of the Southwest Florida Reading Festival and the associated events. The festivities were stopped early due to severe weather but the day was still a resounding success. We could not do it without your financial support and volunteer hours! Thank you for everything!

Jill Horrom, Branch Manager

Reading . . . in Overdrive By Don Long

Confession: I'm one of those readers who has always had trouble returning library books on time, so I've paid lots (and lots) of late return fines. But since I've been a Lakes Regional Library patron and get those helpful reminders and automatic renewals by email, I don't do this (so much) anymore.

And then I discovered Overdrive, which helps me even more. Overdrive is one of the Lee Library System's many great online offerings, a wealth of e-books downloadable to a Kindle or other device. When a title's borrowing period expires, Overdrive first gives me a three-day warning concerning the impending expire, and then, when that period is over, the book disappears from my iPad. If I haven't completed reading, I can simply download it again. And if someone has borrowed it next, I can, with a "Hold" message, download it when it is once more available

But one problem: I can't help browsing, all at my fingertips, this cornucopia of wonderful online offerings. So I've sometimes downloaded two or three more additional titles -- but unable to read them all by the time they expire. So I (try to) discipline myself and download just one at a time.

Overdrive is just one of the Lee Library System's library system's many great assets, putting a whole library at a reader's fingertips. But be assured -- it doesn't keep me away from the Lakes Library's "bricks and mortar" location. I haven't shed my addiction to reading books that require turning pages, seeing them on my shelves when done, or maybe sharing them with others. So I keep coming back -- for Friends meetings, to browse the Book Nook and the "New Fiction" and "New Non-fiction" shelves, or to chat with another "bookie."

(Need help with accessing Overdrive and all the library's other great e-choices? -- a Librarian is always available to assist.)

APRIL GUEST AUTHOR

APRIL 8, 2016 AUTHOR AND HISTORIAN DENÉGE PATTERSON

Denége Patterson has been an avocational archaeologist, docent, researcher, artist, and writer with the Randell Research Center (RRC) of Pineland, Florida for sixteen years, since retiring from her career as a Marriage & Family Therapist and Clinical Supervisor in upstate New York. She has written several books including Edisonia Native

Girl: Life Story of Florence Keen Sansom, Artist Born on the Edison Estate, Fort Myers, Florida, an authentic oral history illustrated by the artist's paintings and historic photos. She will bring copies of this book for sale and signing following the program. A second book is scheduled for release later in 2016 entitled A Tour of the Islands of Pine Island Sound: A Geological, Archaeological, and Historical Perspective, IAPS Press, University of Florida. For our northern transplants, a limited edition third book, a history of a small New York community founded by four members of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra of New York City, will be released by Jostens in May 2016. A visit to the Randall Research Center on Pine Island is educational, historical, and has an enjoyable walking path around the shell mounds – Ms. Patterson will also share information on the Center.

THE FRIENDS MONTHLY MEETING PROGRAMS ARE FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC—NO REGISTRATION REQUIRED.

Lee Memorial Health System will present an interactive program at Lakes Regional Library titled It's All About You to teach individuals how to manage any chronic condition. The workshop is 2.5 hours and it is FREE. Participants will also receive a copy of Dr. Lorig's book Living a Healthy Life with Chronic Conditions.

Registration for this programs is through the Lee Memorial Health System. To register, please call 239-424-3122.

DISPLAY CASE

Bank Coffee Mugs

Financial institutions began giving business accounts a free coffee mug during the 1980's. With the passing of time, some banks merged with other banks, smaller banks were purchased by larger banks, and some banks failed and became part of Southwest

Florida history.

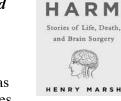

Do you remember some of the names?

These mugs are from the collection of Leo Malaschak.

BOOK REVIEW

Armada by Ernest Cline

"The battle had left our world ravaged and dead, as devoid of life and color as its own moon, its oceans and atmosphere burned away, its mighty cities replaced with impact craters, and the whole of its once-beautiful surface scorched black by the fire of war." Ernest Cline taps into the video game culture of the 80's as a backdrop for this entertaining story that keeps you guessing at how the story is going to play out. This sci-fi thriller follows a young protagonist, Zackary Lightman, as his interest in a popular video game could actually turn into the last hope for humanity. The story starts in a small town in Oregon and makes its way to the far side of the moon where Zack learns that we've known about the existence of aliens for some time now, and the world has been subconsciously conditioned to prepare us for when the conflict finally comes to our planet. During the struggle Zack is left wondering what his true role in the situation is, and if he can trust the orders he has been trained to follow, the orders that have made him one of the top gamers in the world and in turn the best chance to save the human race.
